

CEMENT SHIPPED FOR STREET PAVING

Men And Machinery Are Here And Actual Work Begins First Of Week

The first carload of cement for the Richmond street paving was shipped from Speeds, Inc., Friday morning and is due to arrive here not later than Monday when work on the curb and gutter, preparatory to starting the paving of streets, will begin. The shipment of the first car, will enable the work to be started immediately. This will be followed by other shipments later, since it is estimated that between 10,000 and 12,000 barrels will be required for the job. This important piece of work, that of furnishing all of the cement for the streets of the city, will be in charge of the L. R. Blanton company here. Arrangements have been made for the shipment of the material as it is needed. The cement is the famous Portland cement, recognized as the leading material of the country for street work.

The sand and gravel which will also be shipped in, beginning to arrive now at any time, will be handled by the members of the contracting firm themselves, they having bought the supply outright. This is said to be of a fine quality of material and is especially used in asphalt paving. The company has two trucks in Richmond, with a small force of men and the work of crushing the stone for the big job is well under way. By contract, the Madison county crusher is being used for this work. This doing away with the necessity of the company bringing in another crusher. The curb and gutter work will require but a little time, after the arrival of the material, and this will be followed by the street work. The company has a train load of material, implements and machinery ready to start to the city as soon as the first material arrives for the paving. A part of the big force of workmen at Louisville will be brought to this city and the remainder will be sent farther north to another job, it is understood, however there will be no dearth of workmen looked for here and the work will go on uninterrupted, once it is gotten under way.

CORONER APPOINTED BY JUDGE W. K. PRICE

Madison county has a new coroner in the person of Mr. E. H. Muncy, of Muncy Bros., just appointed by County Judge W. K. Price, to succeed P. A. Tate, whose death recently left the county without an official. The appointment of Mr. Muncy means that he will serve the unexpired term of Mr. Tate, or until the next election. It is believed that since the Muncy Bros. also have an undertaking establishment in connection with their business, his appointment is a very judicious one. While there is not a great deal of business connected with the office, when it does come up, it is of an important nature.

Cement For Irvine Road Is Enroute To Richmond

The work on the Irvine pike is being continued with satisfactory progress being made. Portland cement will be added to the ingredients of the bridge supports and walls, and 1,000 barrels has been shipped and will be delivered at the job the first of the week by the L. R. Blanton company of Richmond. County Road Engineer Baxter reports a fine quality of stone near at hand which will be used also in the building of the highway. When completed this will be one of the finest thoroughfares to be found in the country and will add to the effect of the beautiful scenery surrounding.

SEEKING LIGHT ON INVISIBLE BOOM

Washington, May 28.—The Senate investigating committee today endeavored to get further light on what Chairman Kenyon described as "this invisible McAdoo boom."

Angus McLean, of North Carolina, director of the war finance corporation, recounted a conversation with McAdoo in which McAdoo said, "I wouldn't turn my hand over to get the nomination. I didn't want my friends to take any action about it, but if the nomination was tendered I could not decline it." McLean said some of McAdoo's friends thought they ought to take the bull by the horns and go ahead whether he wanted them to or not, Senator some man is getting the presidency to seek him and he not chasing it. "If ever there was a rabbit, McAdoo is it," returned McLean.

Louis Haig, a reporter on the New York American, identified himself as the writer of an article purporting to tell of $5,000,000 underwriting of the fund to back the campaign and bring about McAdoo's nomination, but refused to disclose his source of information, except to say a member of the Democratic national committee told him.

Lang also discussed the meeting of the Democratic national executive committee at Atlantic City last September. He said plans were then made to raise $10,000,000 for the Democratic national campaign, and it was understood Bernard M. Bauch was to have charge of collecting it.

Ry. Employees' Demands

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, May 28.—B. M. Jewell, representing the railroad employees today, told the railway labor board that unless it grants the shopmen's demands for a national minimum wage of $2.50 per year with an eight-hour day for common labor, "the employees' representatives cannot guarantee the board's decision will be acceptable."

Limiting Prescriptions

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 28.—In an effort to defeat the "discriminate sale" of liquor on physicians' prescriptions Internal Revenue Commissioner Williams issued a ruling today limiting the number of permits allowed each physician to 1000 for three months except with good cause.

The order which Williams issued said that after weeks of study and investigation of records of scores of physicians it "was obligatory for physicians to show where the liquor had gone before more prescription blanks would be issued by the Bureau." "Prohibition agents," added Williams, "must use judgment in issuing or withholding permits. They will not refuse to issue them where a physician is dealing with an epidemic or where his practice is that of a specialist."

DAMAGED GRANTED IN MARY HILL CASE

Jury Returns Verdict After Half Hour's Deliberation After An All Day Session

After practically an all day session in the Madison Circuit Court Thursday, it required but thirty minutes for the jury in the case of Mrs. Mary F. Hill vs. the city of Richmond, to reach a verdict, which read that the plaintiff be entitled to damages in the sum of $4,000 and $35 for medical services.

The suit was for $10,000 and was filed some time ago, the plaintiff alleging that through a defective crossing, she fell, while walking along Main street in the city of Richmond, and sustained a broken arm, which has subsequently been of little use. Plaintiff stated in the evidence that it was while traversing the street that she stepped upon a metal support, bridging the sidewalk and curb, when it slipped, precipitating her to the pavement; that she was carrying a babe in her arm, and was compelled to come in contact with the pavement, in protecting the child. City Attorney J. P. Chenault, when asked regarding whether an appeal would be taken, stated that he had just gotten thru with the case, and that he could make a more satisfactory statement later.

MAY TRANSFER JUVENILE COURT

W. K. Price, who has a reputation as being "The man of many courts," will perhaps be relieved of a part of his duties, since the new law is generally construed to mean that a part of the duties, consisting of a portion if not all of those of the juvenile court be transferred to the circuit court judge.

There is not a great deal of business connected with this court during the time the schools are not in session, but Judge Price says that he kept pretty busy at times during the school sessions.

One interpretation of the law is to the effect that the duties of this office will be entirely under the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court Judge and another is that the work will be done jointly, with the County Judge. It is the belief that in a community such as Richmond, that giving of the jurisdiction entirely and exclusively into the hands of the higher court would not be satisfactory, is from the fact that the circuit court is not in session but at certain periods and that it would be impossible for the Judge to give prompt attention to the cases which often times warrant it.

Officers of the various courts in Richmond are awaiting a copy of the new law to learn the exact status of affairs. Besides the juvenile court, Judge Price has jurisdiction over the County Court, the Quarterly and the Fiscal courts.

LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS ARE BUSY

By Members Of I. O. O. F., Red Men And Knights Pythias For Sunday, June 6

The fraternity organizations are experiencing an unusual year in the way of increased membership. Scarcely is there a meeting at which degree work is not in evidence. Since the first of the year there have been more than half a hundred new members added to the ranks of Madison lodge of Odd Fellows.

The Improved Order of Red Men report that they have a number of candidates in the various stages of the work and that they expect to continue with this during the entire summer, since there is a bigger list than usual. The several degrees are exemplified month after month and new applications for membership are steadily coming in, one member said.

The membership of Normal City lodge, Knights of Pythias, is steadily increasing. There will be degree work exemplified at the regular meeting. The members are planning for the observance of Memorial day.

At a regular meeting of the Richmond lodge of Elks Friday night there will be degree work exemplified, there being ten candidates who will "meet the mysterious" during the ceremony.

The Richmond lodge of Masons is another busy body, and while there is a big list of young men working their way through the first degrees, the lodge is very extensively represented in the Knights Templar. This was demonstrated at the recent Conclave meeting at Lexington.

ALUMNI TO MARK GREAT GATHERING OF GRADUATES

The alumni banquet this year will be the greatest gathering of graduates yet assembled at the Normal school. Word has been received from practically everyone and those who will not be here are staying away because of their schools, which do not close in time to permit them to make the trip.

Grand Jury Dismissed After Efficient Work

The members of the grand jury who served during the May term of the Madison circuit court have completed their work and been excused by Circuit Judge Shackelford. Many of them were residents of the county but little time returning to their homes and work, since this is their busy season. It was on this account that Judge Shackelford proved so liberal in dismissing them at times during court session, in order that they may attend their affairs at home when their presence was not necessary for the jury work. The grand jurors returned 12 indictments at the last meeting, but these cases will not be given attention until the October term of court.

KENTUCKY BOOSTS SALVATION ARMY

Entire State Responding To Call For Aid In Order To Carry On The Work

Mr. Elmer Deatherage and others connected with the Salvation Army drive work are busy, organizing themselves in the interest of the organization representing Richmond, and, together with the young church folk, is preparing for as creditable report as possible in the near future. The work will be extensive and thorough here, and it is hoped that the efforts of those at work will reach that high standard characterizing the giving spirit of Richmond. Team work is in evidence and the systematic solicitation will have its effect, it is believed.

Once upon a time a man was digging a post hole. A passerby stopped and said, "When you put the post in the hole what will you do with all the dirt you have taken out?" The digger scratched his head, looked about and then said, "I'll just have to dig the post hole a little deeper."

That's what the Salvation Army is trying to do today—dig the post hole deeper, so that all the money received can be put back with interest.

All over Kentucky the people are giving to the Salvation Army Campaign of that organization. The Campaign began May 10th, but many difficulties arose in some sections, such as weather conditions, etc., and so it was decided to continue the campaign until June 1st.

The purpose of the Campaign is to raise enough money so that the Salvation Army workers can devote their whole time to the work and to provide for the enlarged work which is constantly pressing itself upon the organization.

Not many days are left for the Campaign. What is to be done must be done quickly. Those who have not subscribed at all are being urged to come to the front. Those who have already subscribed are being urged to enlarge their subscriptions so that the work shall not fail.

THE ELMER LOWRY MEMORIAL SUNDAY

There is one grave in the little rural cemetery on the Judge Million farm near Newby, receiving special attention—it is the grave containing the body of Elmer Lowry, the one gallant young late war representative, who died in camp while preparing to go overseas. This little mound is given particular care, and next Sunday, May 30, will be the scene of an impressive ceremony when Memorial services will be observed, honoring the soldier dead. County Judge W. K. Price will officiate, delivering the Memorial Day address, and there will be special singing and appropriate music. The event is one properly looked upon with unusual interest and reverence by the residents of Newby and vicinity. The services will be conducted at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning. The public is cordially invited. The young man, who died while in service was formerly well and popularly known. His army record was untainted, as was his character before his enlistment. He had a host of friends. The host, will, in all probability, be in attendance to pay that earnest and solemn tribute to his memory.

STUDENT PLAYERS IN GREAT DEMAND

Theatrical To Be Presented By Request At Number Of Madison Schools

Thursday night, when four students were graduated, proved to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable features of the week's festivities of the Union City High School. Prof. G. D. Smith, of Eastern Normal delivered the commencement address, the attendance being such as to tax the capacity of the building. This will be followed by the presentation of another operetta Friday night.

The members of the cast presenting the comedy "All a Mistake", made such a decided hit, that there are demands for the play at various other Paint Lick, Newby, and perhaps a number of other surrounding towns. The dates for the entertainment have not as yet been arranged, but the members of the "company" have stated that they would officiate.

Besides Prof. Smith at the commencement last night, were Misses Gertrude Collett, whose charming voice was appreciated and she was repeatedly encored after singing a number of selections especially appropriate to the occasion. She was accompanied by Miss Long. The week's social affairs at the Union City and at Glenco mark the closing of the schools of Madison county for this year. The season has been one round of success and enjoyment at the various schools and County Superintendent Edwards reports that the interest taken this year was greater than ever before.

CHURCH PRESERVES RELIC OF CIVIL WAR

Recently while the Big Hill Christian church at Mt. Zion was undergoing repairs, some interesting and valuable relics were discovered, one of them being a fragment of a shell which had become imbedded in the masonry work. This had been preserved since the Civil war, when the edifice was in the vicinity of fierce fighting and is one of the few churches now standing and in use built before that memorable time. The church was converted into a hospital during the times of stress and at various times there were evidences of the early days. Not so long ago a number of holes caused by cannon shell were obliterated and time and again the work of improvement brings about some token of those historical days. The church is held in high reverence and its most interesting relics enhance its value in more ways than one.

JOINT MEMORIAL SERVICE PLANNED

The annual Memorial Day services will be observed in Richmond on Sunday, June 6, by members of Madison Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F.; members of the Normal City K. of P. lodge of this city and of Floating Canoe tribe of Red Men with a very fitting program and there will be many visitors from out of the city attending the ceremonies.

While the official program for the day has not been completed in detail, the chief speaker will be Federal Attorney W. D. Gregory, of Louisville. He will deliver the address at the First Christian church, Main street and Lancaster avenue at 3 o'clock, members of the three lodges meeting at respective halls at 2 o'clock and marching to the church.

After the church service the procession will form at Main and Lancaster and march to Richmond cemetery, where representatives of each lodge will deliver a short address in honor to the departed members after which graves will be decorated.

The service this year will be an elaborate one and cities and towns in this and surrounding counties will be represented. One of the big delegations, it is announced, will be here from Lexington comprising members of all three lodges.
